$1000 to loan. Who won't? The local bank 50-foot lot has just bought $6000. I have one-half acre, 2 buildings for $22,000 and can roll in half from this sum. Lot, to this one-half acre, is like finding a sunbeam that has well improved without much back of the log for $34,000. Both these offers look like serious and practical. The first submitted house in class. Knudsen was sold to a traveling man who said he was delighted with his purchase so could plan his own and says make $1000 on lot for this fall, but he said it was a home sweet home. We have more choice lots and will go to sell.

STREET CAR MEN

break the carmen back. They maintained that there were numerous conditions which they must demand be adjusted before the could consent to continue at work.

With the presentation of the petition to Manager Mitchell that official promised that he would immediately take the matter up with the owners of the system in Los Angeles. He explained that to his mind the expense for which Ward had been discharged was such that he could not wisely continue him longer in the service of the company, but that he was willing to abide by the decision of the owners with relation to the matter of his reinstatement as well as with regards to the other demands in the petition.

From time to time during the week committees of the carmen visited Mr. Mitchell but until yesterday was able to induce any settlement. At 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mr. Mitchell notified the committee of the carmen that he had received a telegram from Gen. R. P. Sherman, principal stockholder of the road, stating that the petition had been received in Los Angeles at too late an hour to permit a letter to be sent out on the noon train, but advising that a formal reply should be received here on Sunday. This seemingly appeared to the carmen as another play for time and there appeared upon the streets within a very few minutes later small handbills declaiming that a strike had been called and asking friends of organized labor to "keep off the street cars and walk with us and help us to win a just cause."

At 4 o'clock the strike became effective. Thereafter the carmen declined to confer further with Mr. Mitchell and in fact made no effort so far as is known to reach him. As soon as the strike was called, Mr. Mitchell made preparations for the operation of his cars, but after two hours, during which there was much going on at grocery poles and in demonstrations against the men trying to move the cars under police protection, the manager decided to give up the attempt and ordered all cars in the barns. It was with difficulty that this order was carried out, but about 10 o'clock the last wheel ceased turning and the strike was complete.

There was no combative spirit manifested by the striking carmen. To the contrary, after marching with the crowds in the downtown district for an hour, the majority repaired to the Labor Temple. Whatever occurred thereafter, according to the police, came from other sources, presumably from that element in sympathy with any strike movement without reference to the cause or the probable outcome.

It was nearly midnight before the meeting of the carmen with the trades council representatives was concluded. At that time it was announced that a supplemental petition had been drafted for the presentation to Mr. Mitchell as follows:

Phoenix, Ariz., June 21, 1913.
Mr. S. H. Mitchell,
Manager Phoenix Railway Co., of Arizona.

Dear Sir:
In addition to the request contained in the petition presented to you bearing date June 14, 1913, we further demand the following conditions: Reversion of Local Division No. 636, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electrical Railway Employees of America, 22½¢ per hour for first year men; 24½¢ per hour for second year men; 26½¢ per hour for third year men and thereafter.

After a man has passed the examination to have one day off each month under full pay for ten hours work.

Respectfully submitted,

ALVA CRADICK,
J. F. RAYBURN,
C. L. PITTSUMMONS,
J. M. PATTERSON,
J. J. BELFORD.

Executive Committee.

The organization of Division of 636, A. A. of S. & E. R. E. of A. was perfected at Alva Cradick as president; J. F. Rayburn, vice-president; J. J. Belford, secretary; J. M. Patterson, treasurer. The executive committee appears with the petition presented above.

Incidental to the presenting of this petition, the trades council issued the following call for funds to carry on the strike:

Phoenix, Ariz., June 21st, 1913.
To Whom it may Concern:

The following members of the affiliated trades organizations of Phoenix have been appointed by the trades council of Phoenix for the purpose of soliciting funds for the aid and relief of the car-men now on strike against unfair conditions of employment by the Phoenix Street Railway company, as follows:

R. A. Campbell, secretary state federation of labor.

L. E. Shilling, business agent local Phoenix carpenter's union.

C. S. Aune, local Phoenix electrical workers.

P. S. Tadlock, local Phoenix carpenter's union.

J. J. Corrigan, local Phoenix bricklayer's union.

Funds to be devoted to this purpose may be paid to any of the above mentioned members of this committee, or mailed to Phoenix trades council, Labor Temple, Phoenix.

Respectfully yours,

PHOENIX TRADES COUNCIL.

Signed, J. D. McDONALD, president.

JOHN W. MARTIN, secretary.

Today promises some developments in the strike situation for a mass meeting is called for four o'clock in the city hall plaza for the purpose of publicly discussing the difficulties between the street railway company and the employees. This meeting is under the auspices of the Phoenix Trades Council."

"We are only striking for what we believe is our just dues," said a committee of the carmen last night after their meeting. "We will countenance no disorder among our members and no man affiliated with us will be recognized who indulges in such practice. We mean to win fair."

Mr. Mitchell was seen last evening and said that the Ward matter was really at the bottom of the strike, although he knew that the men were preparing to present other grievances. He said that he was willing to treat with the men at all times on just grievances, but that in this particular instance his hands were tied and he must await word from Los Angeles.

"Ward and Inspector Bush became engaged in a controversy something over a week ago," said Mr. Mitchell. "He made some statements that, if true, would make it impossible for me, for the protection of the company, to allow him to further remain in the company's employ. I gave Ward every opportunity to present his side and instead of helping his side, he made almost the same sort of remarks in leaving my office as he was charged by Inspector Bush with having made. As to the further grievances they are matters which should be discussed by the men and the employers and not be made in the way of formal demands without first ascertaining just how possible it would be for the company to meet them.

"I am going to advertise for men to operate my cars. Incidentally I have asked for police protection on Sundays in moving cars and if this is given adequately the cars will be moved. I do not anticipate any great amount of trouble on Sunday. If the men decide that they want to come back within a reasonable time I will be glad to give them their papers and then try and adjust the difficulties.

I have a petition here signed by thirteen men, asking that their names be withdrawn from that circulated by Ward. In addition nine other men voluntarily scratched their names from the Ward petition on the same day that it was presented. Most of these admitted that they misunderstood the real import of the original petition and stated that they did not wish to be a party to such a movement.

I do not wish to import men for other towns unless I am compelled to do so. If the old men are not reinstated I hope to be able right here in Phoenix to secure good men to operate the cars and I assure all that I will do my utmost to make conditions such as would be desirable to such a class of men as I would like to have in my employ."

NEGRO IS LYNNED

His Crime That of Fatally Wounding Chief of Police

ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTER

DAYTON, June 21.—William Redding, a negro, who shot and perhaps fatally wounded Chief of Police William C. Barnes, though while the officer was taking him to prison was buried by a mob.

The mob numbering about five hundred hung the negro to a cable of a street car at the corner near the scene of the crime and were unmoved in the pleadings of a speaker on Redding's behalf. After swinging the negro's body into the air they stoned it with bullets.

In the night Redding after his arrest by Chief Barnes, wringed himself loose and fled at close range. The bullet passed through the officer's body wounding a negro bystander. Chief Barnes, although seriously wounded, fired several times at Redding, three other negroes receiving slight injuries.

IRELAND'S POPULATION STILL DECREASING.

ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTER

There are 58,250 separate families in Ireland who each occupy only one room and there are 172 families who do not get even that much space in which to live—their home is a share of a room.

These are two of the many interesting facts disclosed by the general report upon the fact census of Ireland issued recently. Another is that the population of the "distressful country" shows a decrease of 1.54 per cent during the ten years following the census of 1901. One province alone (Leinster) showing a slight increase—not more than one per cent.

The religious statistics give the following interesting results:
